

Assignment- Questions?.

- What are the important watershed factors to be considered in watershed management?
- In watershed analysis, what are the important channel geomorphology parameters to be considered?
- Illustrate the geometric representation of watershed step by step.
- Describe the areal aspects of watershed & its importance in geomorphological study of watershed.
- What are the different stages of watershed developments?.

Unsolved Problem!.

- For your watershed, identify various characteristics & list them in the order of importance.
- Analyze the linear aspects of the watershed.
- Analyze the areal aspects of the watershed.
- Analyze the relief aspects of the watershed.
 - Collect data – area, channel length, slope etc.
 - Illustrate the importance of each characteristics in the watershed management plans.